

Getting Arrested – What to do!

"When I got arrested I was frightened. I wanted to run. At the police station I was so confused I just told the police what they wanted to hear. I didn't know I could get someone to help me. Now I know what to do if it happens again"

Getting Arrested – What to do is an education resource designed to teach people with intellectual or other cognitive disabilities what it means to break the law and what to do if they get arrested. The resource is also suitable for other groups, eg young people

The package includes:

- DVD "Getting Arrested – What to do!": This 14 minute DVD traces the experience of a young man, Tim, when he is arrested. He shows us what to do if arrested.
- Photo book which reflects the information in the DVD
- Animated DVD "Bail Conditions: Don't break them – It's just not worth it", explains what bail conditions are; what can happen if you break them and how you can stick to your conditions
- Training notes, background legal information, lesson plans, training activities and more!

For more info, to order the package or to ask about the free training contact Intellectual Disability Rights Service Ph (02) 9318 0144 Fax (02) 9318 2887 or email info@idrs.org.au
